Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival to Galway

When you arrive in Galway make your way to your accommodation anytime after 3.00pm. You can then explore this bustling medieval city. We will send you on full accommodation details and the necessary contact details for your tour closer to your departure date.

Day 2: Galway – Cong – Westport, approx. 60 km + transfer

The day starts with a 9.30am transfer to the village of Cong where you head north along the quiet back roads through rolling green fields full of grazing sheep, before descending down to Lough Mask and a wonderful cycle along the shores of the lake. After lunch you have our biggest climb of the week over the Partry Mountains and then cycle along quiet back roads with stunning views of the surrounding landscape all the way to the colourful village of Westport.

Day 3: Westport – Leenane, approx. 55 km

You cycle between Croagh Patrick and the beautiful Clew Bay with its many small islands, to the village of Louisburgh where you can stop for lunch. In the afternoon you head south through one of the highlights of the week, the stunning Delphi Valley with its beautiful lakes overlooked by Ben Bury, the highest mountain in Connemara. That night you stay in the small village of Leenane which looks out over Killary Harbour, Ireland's only fjord.

Day 4: Leenane – Clifden, approx. 60 km

You cycle into the heart of Connemara overlooked by the Twelve Bens mountain range and visit Kylemore Abbey. The cycle continues along quiet backroads past small fields with grazing cattle to the seaside village of Cleggan where you stop for lunch. In the afternoon you follow the scenic coast road to Clifden where you can watch cars travel across the beach to Omev Island only accessible when the tide is out! Clifden, the capital of Connemara, where you spend the next two nights is a pretty and bustling town of art galleries, cafes, pubs and restaurants established 200 years ago at the whim of John D'Arcy.

Day 5: Rest day in Clifden

The day can be spent in rest and relaxation, or you can take part in a variety of activities including walking, golf or horse riding. The town itself is a nice place to spend time visiting the museum, art galleries and book shops and cafés. In the evening there are several bars which have traditional music sessions.

Day 6: Clifden – Aran Islands, approx. 60 km + ferry ride

You cycle out of Clifden along beautiful waterside roads crossing extensive wild bogs with freshly cut peat waiting to be harvested against a backdrop of the Twelve Bens Mountains. The afternoon cycle takes you through Gaelic speaking areas to the ferry in Rossaveel which will bring you to Inis Mor, the largest of the Aran Islands where you will spend the night.

Day 7: Aran Islands – Galway, approx. 35 km + transfer

The day can then be spent touring the unique landscape of the island with its wealth of ancient stone forts and monastic sights. In the late afternoon you return to the mainland and take a transfer back to Galway city for a final night on the town together before going our separate ways the following morning.

Day 8: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
