Your tour

From the island of Usedom you cycle to the port metropolis of Gdansk. You will be impressed by the breathtaking landscape of Pomerania. The shifting sand dunes of Leba, perhaps the most beautiful lighthouse in Poland and the „Polish Sahara“ are on your route. Always along the coast you will drive along long beaches, wide dunes and also through dense, enchanted forests. Gdansk, the over 1000-year-old port city, is the crowning finale of your journey!

Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival to Szczecin

You spend your first night in the harbour town of Szczecin where the Oder flows into Szczecin Lagoon. At 5.30 pm you meet with your guide and start shortly thereafter for a city tour. Then you can wander through Szczecin's little Venice and feel the east wind on your face when you stop at the so-called Hakenterrace one of the most beautiful spots in Europe. Gourmets will love the cellar rooms of the Starka distillery, where they produce a unique type of vodka.

Day 2: Bus trip to Swinoujscie, Swinoujscie - Cammin, approx. 45 / 65 km

A boat takes you to Swinoujscie on Usedom. On your bike, explore the green forests of Wollin National Park. On the pier of the old spa resort of Misdroy you can take a break and admire the wonderful views of the cliffs. Passing idyllic lakes, which lie like tear-drops amidst the forests you finally reach today's destination. From the upper platform you have a beautiful view over the Kamien Pomorski Bodden.

Day 3: Cammin – Kolberg, approx. 50 km

In Kamien Pomorski you have ample time to visit the Piastenturm tower and the Gothic town hall, both built in typical red brick. You follow the Baltic Sea cycle path along the coast. In Hoff, if you take a closer look you'll see the ruins of a church on the cliffs. And what must be Poland's most beautiful lighthouse is also on your way. Stop in Niechorze and look out for it!

Day 4: Kolberg – Osieki / Słupsk / Stolpmünde, approx. 50 km + transfer

Today, the cycle path takes you through expansive lovely sandy dunes and a bird sanctuary. Cycling through small villages, you eventually arrive in Osieki, a picturesque village with only 200 inhabitants. If you stay overnight in Słupsk, you can easily reach the city in the hinterland of the Baltic Sea by the transfer bus.

Day 5: Osieki – Leba, approx. 45 km + transfer

A transfer in the morning takes you to Ustka. Leaving the summer capital, which has been a popular bathing resort for many centuries, you set off for Leba. On quiet roads, you cycle through the forested part of Słowiński National Park before reaching the small fishing village of Kluki, the last place in which the West Slavic language of Slovincian was spoken before it died out. A short trip by bus takes you to today's destination.

Day 6: Bathing / rest day or excursion to the Słowiński National Park

Today you will find yourself in Poland's Sahara – surrounded by expansive sand dunes, some of which are shifting sand dunes. Some 10 m of forest are gradually covered by shifting sand dunes year for year. Leba lies between two lakes and the Baltic Sea – three stretches of water, which will tempt you to jump in for a swim on your day out of the saddle!

Day 7: Leba – Hela Peninsula – Gdansk, approx. 40 km + transfer and boat trip

Today you cycle along Poland's cow tail. The Hel peninsula is 34 km long but only 0.2 and 3 km wide – which is how it got its nickname. You can scrunch your toes in the sand on two beaches here. A ferry takes you to your destination of Gdansk, whose harbour-side silhouette cannot be mistaken. Neptune, God the Sea, watches over this magnificent Hanse town, which looks back on over 1000 years of history.

Day 8: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
