Your tour

On the bike tour in Sicily, you will get to know the fairytale-like west coast of the largest island in the Mediterranean. For the most part, you cycle along the coast, passing beautiful white sandy beaches that are ideal for a break. Sicily also has a lot to offer culturally. In past eras, many peoples left their traces, which are still visible today. Not only the magnificent Greek temples in Selinunte and a North African kasbah in Mazara del Vallo will inspire you. The mild climate ensures that you can still enjoy the cycling tour when the weather in Germany is already getting colder and more uncomfortable.

Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival in Trapani

Your cycle tour starts in Trapani, a city in the north-west of Sicily. The historic center with numerous squares and churches awaits you. Trapani is also known for the largest salt works in Sicily, which is well worth a visit.

Day 2: Trapani – Mozia – Marsala, approx. 50 km

Today you cycle in a relaxed manner on flat paths. Your gaze wanders again and again to the small salt hills and the numerous windmills. Take your time and take a motorboat to the small island of Mozia. There is a museum on the island with archaeological finds. Back again, you will reach Marsala after a few kilometers. Enjoy a glass of the special dessert wine for which the town is named.

Day 3: Marsala – Mazara del Vallo, approx. 30 km

A rather short stage awaits you on the third day of the cycle tour in Sicily. You will first have enough time to visit Marsala. Around the Piazza della Repubblica, you can visit numerous baroque buildings or taste the liqueur wine Marsala, which gives the port city its name. Today's destination is Mazara del Vallo, a small town with a fascinating mix of different cultures. The town center includes an African kasbah and a baroque bishop's palace.

Day 4: Mazara del Vallo – Selinunte, approx. 40 km

Today's route first takes you inland from the coast. You cycle through gently undulating terrain and soon reach the Mediterranean Sea at Selinunte between olive trees and flat vineyards. The extensive Greek temples, which are located not far from today's town center, are well worth seeing. Even though the temples were destroyed by earthquakes, the ruins give an idea of the importance the ancient city once had. Some of the temples have been rebuilt.

Day 5: Selinunte – Sambuca, approx. 55 km

Today's cycling stage on your cycle tour in Sicily takes you through the interior of the country. You cycle through flat, cultivated terrain. Short hilly sections are followed by longer descents through wooded areas. Enjoy the beautiful landscape before you reach the small town of Sambuca. It is idyllically situated amidst vineyards and Lake Arancio. Discover the old town with its winding alleyways and historic churches.

Day 6: Sambuca – Corleone, approx. 50 km

Get on the saddle and cycle on quiet roads, sometimes flat, sometimes hilly, through the inland. You reach Corleone. The small town is mainly associated with the movie The Godfather. From a former Mafia town, Corleone has now developed into a tourist magnet. You will find numerous museums and baroque churches. You will certainly be surprised by the waterfall and the large, well-kept town park.

Day 7: Corleone – Monreale, approx. 60 km

Enjoy the unique landscape of Sicily once again today. Cycle leisurely along large cultivated areas and through green forests. From the hills you have a breathtaking view over the valleys. When you reach the small village of Piana degli Albanesi, don't miss out on tasting cannolo, a typical Sicilian pastry. You will soon reach Monreale, the destination of your cycle tour in Sicily. The town is famous for its cathedral, the construction of which dates back to 831.

Day 8: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
