The Oder-Neisse Cycle Route
from Frankfurt to Usedom

From Eur 939,-

Your tour

The cycle tour takes you from Frankfurt an der Oder to the sunny island of Usedom. Following the Oder-Neisse Cycle Path, you will explore beautiful north-eastern German landscapes. The first stages lead close to the river through the Oderbruch, full of character, and the Lower Oder Valley National Park with its species-rich flora and fauna. You leave the Oder and cycle through slightly hilly and wooded landscapes to the Szczecin Lagoon. On the Polish side of the lagoon, the Oder flows into the Baltic Sea. Take the ferry across to the island of Usedom. You can spend the last day at your leisure. You can enjoy the sandy beaches and imperial spas of Usedom to the full.

Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival in Frankfurt (Oder)

Frankfurt an der Oder was once an important trading and Hanseatic city on both sides of the Oder. To this day, St. Mary's Church and the historic town hall bear witness to the wealth of days gone by. After the Second World War, the city was divided. Today, Frankfurt forms a European twin city with the Polish city of Słubice. Border traffic across the city bridge is lively. A short detour to the sister city should not be missed when exploring the city. If you arrive early in the day, you can follow in the footsteps of Frankfurt's most famous son – the poet Heinrich von Kleist – on an approximately 20-kilometre route and get to know the arrival city of your cycle tour on the Oder.

Day 2: Frankfurt (Oder) – Groß Neuendorf / Altlewin, approx. 60 / 70 km

The birthplace of the important playwright Heinrich von Kleist was once an important trading and Hanseatic town. Impressive buildings such as the town hall and St. Mary's Church still bear witness to its former wealth. Today's stage takes you through the Oderbruch, a cultural landscape created in the 18th century by river straightening, embankment and drainage.

Day 3: Groß Neuendorf – Schwedt, approx. 65 km

Whereas yesterday it was rural, today it is downright lonely in the Lower Oder Valley Nature Park, home to many rare plants and animals. The river floodplain is a resting place for large flocks of migratory birds. You will pass Stolpe Castle, which has one of the most massive defence towers in Germany, the Grützpot. You then reach Schwedt. Here you will find one of the largest remaining Jewish cemeteries in Brandenburg.

Day 4: Schwedt – Löcknitz, approx. 80 km

After breakfast, you cycle to Gartz, which lies in the middle of an end moraine landscape in the national park. Due to its strategically important location on the Oder River, the town has been the victim of warlike conflicts time and again. Inland through forests and fields, the place names point to the former Slavic settlements. Despite its name, which translates as Sumpfloch, Löcknitz is a thriving little town.

Day 5: Löcknitz – Ueckermünde, approx. 60 km

Small lakes and heath landscapes characterise today's stage, which takes you through Western Pomerania to the coast of the Szczecin Lagoon. The lagoon was originally a glacial lake and is now very rich in fish with a depth of about four metres. At the mouth of the Uecker

River lies the former fishing town of Ueckermünde, now lovingly restored. The residential castle is one of the most important buildings here.

Day 6: Ueckermünde – Insel Usedom, approx. 65 / 80 km + boat trip

First you cycle to Kamp, from where you take the ferry to Karnin on the island of Usedom. Here you have a wonderful view over the lagoon and the Baltic Sea from Golm, the highest elevation on the island at 69 metres. Relax in one of the imperial spas and admire the spa architecture on the sunny island. Then cycle through sparse forests and along the wide Baltic Sea sandy beach to your overnight destination.

Day 7: Stay on Usedom

How you spend your day on Usedom today is entirely up to you. Explore the sun-drenched island on a round trip by bike. There is plenty to discover: idyllic harbors, picturesque inland lakes and 40 kilometers of fine, white sandy beaches. Or you can spend the day relaxing in one of the fashionable seaside resorts. Stroll along the promenades, walk across the piers and while away the time in one of the numerous cafés and restaurants. The only thing more relaxing is a day at the beach. Enjoy the warm rays of sunshine on your skin and refresh yourself in the cool waters of the Baltic Sea.

Day 8: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
