Three magnificent capitals!

From Eur 749,-

Your tour

With Vienna, Bratislava and Budapest, the tour features three capitals that are among the most beautiful in the world. They are connected by well-kept farming villages, small towns worth seeing with an old history and the mighty Danube river, whose riparian forests are protected on long stretches. After the German Danube and the classic from Passau to Vienna, this part is the insider tip among Danube cyclists!

Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival to Vienna

Take the opportunity today to visit the Danube metropolis. Visit Schönbrunn Castle, the Imperial Spanish Riding School, the Ferris Wheel with great views over the city or the cathedral of Stephansdom. Whether you take a horse and carriage ride, a visit to a café or an evening visit to a wine-bar: start your holiday off with a taste of Vienna. Booked rental bikes will be available at the hotel.

Day 2: Wien – Bad Deutsch-Altenburg / Hainburg, approx. 50 km

The Danube cycle path leads you out of the city and through pristine river valley forests. In Orth you can visit one of the largest Renaissance castles in Austria. The route then continues on to today's destination, where in you shouldn't miss a look at the Roman history in the archaeological park in Petronell-Carnuntum.

Day 3: Hainburg – Bratislava, approx. 35 km

The day begins with a trip to the archaeological park of Carnuntum. Significant buildings from a Roman town have been uniquely reconstructed here. Next, your tour takes you back to Hainburg and just a short while later you will cross the Slovakian border. The capital town of Bratislava is influenced by the castle here of the same name. Wandering through the old town, lovers of drinking chocolate should definitely go to Cokoladovna Cafe.

Day 4: Bratislava – Győr, approx. 40 km + Train ride

In Rajká cross the border to Hungary to then cycle over Little Rye Island. An expansive area of wetland and many Danube side streams characterise this section of the route. In the village of Mosonmagyaróvár (Town of the 17 Bridges) you alight the train to travel the last section of the route. In Győr bring the day to a pleasant close in any of the many beer gardens.

Day 5: Győr – Komárom, approx. 55 km

Today you leave the flat Little Hungarian Plain to head for the small, gentle hills of Transdanubia. Husbandry is practiced a great deal here so you're bound to see some of the famous Arabian horses. The national stud farm is not far. Cycling through the walnut avenues is beautiful. Your destination today is Komaróm. Here, the Danube divides the Hungarian and Slovakian parts of the town, which used to be a single entity.

Day 6: Komárom – Esztergom / Visegrád, approx. 55 km + boat / train ride

Keeping close to the river you cycle through the flat Danube valley today. Little towns and villages and green vineyards line the cycle path. The more athletic can try the route via the town of Tata, which includes a number of hills. People interested in history should take the time to visit the Roman Fort of Kelemantia. Esztergom and its classicist basilica is an absolute highlight. If you spend the night in Visegrád, take a boat or train to Visegrád from here.

Day 7: Visegrád – Budapest, approx. 60 km

The king's palace and Visegrád Castle are a picturesque backdrop as you start today's tour. In the artist's town of Szentendre it is worth visiting the open air museum there or exploring the Baroque old town. Through the Danube Knee, which is probably the most beautiful part of the Danube, you head on towards Budapest. Allow the evening to come to a pleasant end with thoughts of all you have experienced on your tour.

Day 8: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
