Day 2: Round tour St. Moritz, approx. 40 km

Grab your bike right after breakfast and explore the fascinating area around St. Moritz. Cycle along the Silvaplana and Silvaplana lakes and get ever closer to the source of the Inn. In Majola or Silvaplana you will be welcomed with a hearty bainvegni. Sit down in a café near the lake and watch in awe as the kite surfers use the wind for their fascinating tricks. Relax and cycle back to St. Moritz, where you will also spend the next night.

Day 3: St. Moritz – Zernez, approx. 35 km

Often along the banks, you follow the still narrow, quiet Inn downstream. Lively, picturesque villages such as Samedan, La Punt and Zuoz lie along the way. Richly decorated farms and stately patrician houses - postcard idylls as far as the eye can see. The locals ensure that Engadin culture remains alive. Roll on to Zernez, the gateway to the national park. Home to rare Alpine animals and untouched, wild nature, it is the only national park in Switzerland that you will get to know on the cycle tour from St. Moritz to Innsbruck.

Day 4: Zernez – Scuol, approx. 35 km

The rushing of the Inn becomes louder and the river a little wider. However, the pretty villages remain small. You pass through the small mountain village of Lavin and Guarda, which lies high above the Inn and owes its name to the magnificent view. Cycle leisurely through the alleyways of the villages and return the friendly greetings of the locals. You will soon reach Scuol, your destination for today's stage. Relax in the Bogn Engiadina thermal spa (not included) or visit Tarasp Castle, the majestic landmark of the Engadin.

Day 5: Scuol – Prutz / Ried, approx. 55 km

Today's stage of your cycle tour from St. Moritz to Innsbruck begins very relaxed again. You cycle leisurely through the wonderful landscape of the Engadin. Enjoy the views of the mountains and the lush green meadows. Soon it's time to say goodbye to Austria! First you reach Pfunds, a tranquil village in the border triangle. Roll on effortlessly through numerous small villages, whose traditional way of life can be seen as you pass by. You will soon have reached your stage destination of Ried or Prutz.

Day 6: Ried – Imst, approx. 40 km

Cycle to Landeck first, where you can take your first break. There is a lot to see here: The castle and landmark of the town houses the local history museum. If you fancy a hike, visit the Zammer Lochputz, a mystical gorge with a waterfall and mirror cave. Back on the saddle, greet Zams Monastery and cycle through the protected Milser Au to Imst. Are you not afraid of heights? Then visit the Adlerhorst viewing platform! You can reach the platform via a 13-metre-long footbridge, from where you have a magnificent view of the mountains.

Day 7: Imst – Innsbruck, approx. 65 km

Set off on the last stage of your cycle tour from St. Moritz to Innsbruck. You follow the river through small, traditional villages to Stams. A visit to the Cistercian abbey of Stams Abbey with its own schnapps distillery is a worthwhile break. You then cycle the last few kilometers to the Tyrolean capital of Innsbruck. You should take plenty of time to explore this fascinating city. The Hofburg, the Golden Roof, Ambras Castle and the Witten Basilica are just a few witnesses to great history. You can get a wonderful view of the city from above from the Bergisel Olympic ski jump.

Day 8: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
