Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival in Munich

Welcome to the white-blue metropolis of Munich. If you have booked rental bikes, they will be waiting for you at your hotel. Take some time to explore this royal city. Munich was founded as early as the 12th century. With all of the sights this city has to offer, you'll definitely find your own personal highlight among them. Munich Hofbräuhaus is known the world over for its traditional beer. Are you more interested in culture? Then you'll love the internationally known museums, galleries or theatres.

Day 2: Munich – Lake Ammer, approx. 45 km + boat trip

The first day in the saddle on the Munich Lakes Cycle Tour starts magnificently: you pedal out of the busy town and into the countryside! The cycle path takes you through the Forstenried Park, a nature reserve, and Würmtal Valley. On today's section, there are lots of smaller hills

- don't forget though that you are rewarded by lots of downhill sections too! Andechs Monastery watches over Lake Ammer. The monastery is Bavaria's oldest place of pilgrimage. It's worth stopping here. Enjoy a Bavarian „Brotzeit“ snack and a beer from the monastery's own brewery. And then let your gaze take in the Alpine panorama. Next, you freewheel down to Herrsching, one of two possible places to stay the night. If your accommodation is in Dießen, you have a wonderful boat trip there, over to the other side of Ammersee Lake!

Day 3: Lake Ammer – Starnberg Lake, approx. 40 / 60 km

Following the little river Ammer, you leave Herrsching. Your next highlight along today's route is Pfaffenwinkel - or Parson's Corner. The region is so named because of the large number of monasteries there is here. Today, you will be cycling through hilly countryside. Discover the mystic moorscape and hidden rivers. You soon arrive in Weilheim with its famous monasteries and churches. The town is the centre of the Upper Bavarian Pfaffenwinkel. The colourful facades of the houses are a special feature of the old quarter. Admire the partially intact town wall, which dates back to the so-called Gründerzeit period. Leaving Weilheim, you cycle pass luscious meadows and thick forest. Today's destination is either the west bank, or a little further to the east bank of Starnberger See Lake.

Day 4: Trip around Starnberg Lake, approx. 50 km

You cycle all the way round the lake. It's a must on this Munich Lakes Cycle Tour. The cycle path takes you through unique places along the lake. There's a lot to discover! Did you know that the lakeside is a popular breeding places for a diverse range of birds. A highlight is, without doubt, the Votiv chapel. The chapel was built as a monument to the fairy-tale king, Ludwig II. From here, you can see the place where his corpse was once found. He gave Bavaria many beautiful castles. On the west side of the lake is Feldafing, and further upstream, Rose Island - the only island on Starnberger See Lake. Your constant companion is the breath-taking view of the lake. Enjoy the Bavarian flair and these lively holiday resorts.

Day 5: Starnberg Lake – Kochel Lake, approx. 45 km

The fourth stage of the Munich Lakes Tour begins with a special highlight: the Easter Lakes. The Osterseen consist of 19 small individual lakes and have been a nature reserve for quite some time. You cycle along the cycle path through the middle of the beautiful, unspoilt landscape. And soon the next lake spreads out in front of you, it is the Riegsee, which enchants with its Upper Bavarian farms! You cycle on to Murnau. The Murnauer Moor is unique in Europe due to its size. Now there is one more incline to overcome and you are cycling directly towards Lake Kochel. Visit the Franz Marc Museum. The colourful artist once lived in the municipality of Kochel and painted many of his famous pictures there.

Day 6: Kochel Lake – Bad Tölz, approx. 30 km

A relatively short section awaits you. You leave Kochel lake via Kochel Moos and cycle along good cycle paths through typically Bavarian countryside and towns. The beer garden in Benediktbeuern is an ideal spot for your first break. Back in the saddle, you cycle at a leisurely pace, passing camp sites and restaurants that serve the local cuisine. Bad Tölz is nestled between fields and the Isar river. It has a lot to offer! There are many famous churches to admire. The market place is unique. Lüftlmalerei is an old painting technique that dates back to Baroque times. You can see examples of it on the facades of the gables, still intact today. The Kurhaus is also worthy of a visit. It is located in a beautiful park. The Knight Gabriel von Seidl planned the building, which, today, is used as a concert and theatre.

Day 7: Bad Tölz - Munich, approx. 60 km

The Isar river leads you out of Bad Tölz today. Following the Isar cycle path, you pedal through green landscape to Wolfratshausen. The historic rafter town is situated idyllically between Isar and Loisach. Enjoy the tranquility this cycling holiday offers, along the river. Maybe spend some time watching the rafters. Today's route has a number of hills to tackle. But the Bavarian capital is not long in coming now. The lively city of Munich is expecting you! Reward yourself in the English Garden, in one of the beer gardens, with a sausage and be inspired by the Bavarian capital's Marienplatz.

Day 8: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
