Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival to Cologne

Welcome to Cologne! The old cathedral city is an ideal starting point for a cycle tour on the Lower Rhine. After checking into your hotel, grab your bike and explore Cologne's Old Town, the Roman-Germanic Museum or snack your way through the Chocolate Museum. Treat yourself to a Kölsch on the banks of the Rhine in the old town before setting off on your first stage tomorrow.

Day 2: Cologne – Düsseldorf / Neuss, approx. 55 km

Leaving the Cologne skyline behind you, today you cycle to Düsseldorf or Neuss, depending on where you are staying overnight. Passing the small fortress town of Zons with its picturesque townscape, you reach Neuss, which is famous for its Roman past. The Quirinus Minster and the Clemens Sels Museum are well worth a visit. The longest bar in the world awaits you on the opposite side of the Rhine, in Düsseldorf. More than 250 pubs, bars and restaurants lie side by side in the historic city centre. If this is too hectic for you, take a stroll along Königsallee, also known as Kö, or make yourself comfortable in Rheinpark Bilk.

Day 3: Düsseldorf / Neuss – Duisburg, approx. 50 km

Before you reach the Ruhr region, today's cycle stage first takes you to Kaiserswerth. Here, the legendary Emperor Frederick Barbarossa once had an existing castle extended into a mighty fortress. Before the green Rhine meadows give way to the industrial architecture of the Ruhr region, you visit the Linn Castle Museum Centre, including the moated castle and hunting lodge. Once in the Ruhr region, you will soon reach your destination for the day, Duisburg. See Duisburg with different eyes: on a boat tour through the world's largest inland harbour. Duisburg's inner harbour with its striking architecture is well worth an evening stroll.

Day 4: Duisburg – Wesel, approx. 50 km

Today's cycling stage begins with a short S-Bahn journey. The programme includes a guided tour of the Duisburg-Nord Landscape Park, which is steeped in industrial history. On the almost 200-hectare site, you will learn about the history of this former steelworks. The former Hanseatic city of Wesel is your destination for the day. The tower of the Willibrordi Cathedral, visible from afar, and the Prussian Museum, which depicts 350 years of Rhineland-Prussian history, are notable sights in Wesel.

Day 5: Wesel – Emmerich, approx. 50 km

Not far from Wesel, the Roman, cathedral and Siegfried city of Xanten awaits you on today's stage of your cycle tour on the Lower Rhine. Germany's largest open-air archaeological museum invites you to visit. Situated on the site of the former Colonia Ulpia Traiana, it is not only fans of Roman culture that will be amazed here. Once you have crossed the Rhine over Germany's longest suspension bridge, you will reach Emmerich.

Day 6: Emmerich – Arnheim, approx. 40 km

Welcome to the Netherlands today. Not far from the German-Dutch border, the Rhine splits into the Waal and the Nederrijn. You follow the Nederrijn past locks and bridges to Arnhem, the capital of the Dutch province of Gelderland. The lively city invites you to end your cycle tour on the Lower Rhine with a visit to the Airborne Museum Hartenstein, which is dedicated to the Battle of Arnhem in the Second World War. In addition to the city's diverse cultural programme, numerous parks invite you to take a stroll.

Day 7: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
